

SNOW POLICY/NATURAL DISAS-

It is very difficult, even for the weatherman to predict snowfall. Therefore, Tiny Tots will monitor Seattle Public School closures in making our decision whether to be open for the day. Contact your childcare site for an update phone message.

- If Seattle Public Schools announces a snow closure Wing Luke Gentle Dragons will also be closed.
- If the Seattle Public School closes, there will be no ECEAP Preschool.

For Tiny Tots Main and East Campus: (Non-ECEAP) the following applies to you:

- If the public schools close, Tiny Tots will open 2 hours later if possible (8:00 AM) and we will close 2 hours early (4:00PM). No children will be allowed to stay past 4:00PM without a late fee.
- If a severe storm occurs, Tiny Tots will close. We do not want to place our staff in jeopardy by requiring travel under risky weather conditions; many of them also have children in school. If you have any questions, please ask the office staff.
- If an earthquake occurs while your child is in our care. We will stay with your children on site at Tiny Tots or take them to the nearest designated Emergency Center (see your specific site's Emergency Policies for details). If an earthquake happens overnight, or during the early morning hours before 6:00 AM, Tiny Tots will not be open.

To be sure of our schedule and in case of any and all emergencies or concerns please call Tiny Tots at 206-723-1590.

Important Dates:

December 10th-12th

ECEAP Health Screening, Vision, Height, Weight, Hearing will all be done

December 18th

Field Trip- TBD, More information will be sent out SOON

December 19th

Gingerbread house making party

Detailed flyer will be out soon

December 20th- January 8th

NO ECEAP- Winter Break

December 25th, 26th, & 27th

CLOSED

Happy Holidays

Lil' Notes Sings a Note

Hello Families,

We have made it through our first quarter and parent-teacher conference. Thank you all for coming to meet and discuss your child(ren). In this month we will continue our letter and number recognitions, and adding sight words and short learning to read sentences in the class and in the homework packets. Please take no more than 10 minutes and complete a page with your child(ren).

Thank you,

Mr. Philip , Ms. Rashawnda and Ms. Niu

Please bring is 2 complete set of clothes for your child to keep at school.

12/09 Khalid Ali

12/29 Ahmed Ahmed

Lil' Notes Reminders:

Check your child's mailbox (located in their cubby) for informational papers and homework

Butterflies Fluttering Message

Hello Families,

First thank you all for attending your parent-teacher conferences. It was great to meet and come up with individual plans for your child.

This quarter the children seemed to be interested in insects. So we will be learning all about insects as well as season changing and incorporating winter throughout the class.

Check your child's mailbox (located in their cubby) for informational papers and homework

Please bring is 2 complete set of clothes for your child to keep at school.

Thank you,

Mrs. Meuy, Ms. Hannah, and Ms. Angel

12/10 Jai'Elle Vaden-Smith

12/26 Danny Nguyen

Time Management: 8 Ways to Manage Family during the Holidays by Barbara Reich on October 23rd

Managing your family’s time around the holidays can be a challenge all in itself. Between Thanksgiving and New Year’s Day, there are about 40 days jam-packed with shopping, family gatherings, parties, school events, and vacations. You can either let it all go to your head or you can take a moment, take a deep breath, get out your master calendar, and reign in your family. Remember, your mood and tone sets the stage for your family. If you’re calm, they will be calm.

Here are a few helpful tips on how to keep your cool and actually enjoy the holidays:

Decide what traditions are most important to you and forgo the rest. Figure out how to make the holiday meaningful for your family. Your family takes their cue from you. Nobody will enjoy the holidays if you feel stressed.

* There's a balance between planning ahead and letting the holidays take over your life. Your sanity by prepping for the festive season between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

* Don't be afraid to say "no" to those events that you truly don't want to attend. It's having too many obligations that makes the holidays stressful instead of enjoyable.

* If you have a social commitment that you're dreading, be targeted about how you spend your time when you get there.

* Arrive early and spend a few minutes one-on-one with the host. Put in your face time, do the necessary networking, and be on your way. When you know that there are going to be several parties in a short period of time, insist that your family has down time at home to regroup. Not only is it enjoyable to relax when things are busy, sometimes this is the most precious time of all.

* When entertaining, schedule the day as if you were preparing an army for battle. Don't forget the little — yet important — things, like making time for you to get dressed for the event.

* Delegate whatever you can. When a guest asks what they can bring, have a suggestion ready. Be proactive about asking guests and family members to help.

* When planning the logistics, build in time for you to soak in the tub before your guests arrive or you have to leave the house.

Gingerbread House Icing

This Gingerbread House Icing is exactly what you need to make the perfect gingerbread house recipe. Grab the gingerbread house template printable make up a batch of this gingerbread icing and you will be all set to go!

Ingredients

1 pound powdered sugar

3 pasteurized egg whites

1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar

Instructions

In a large bowl mix the ingredients together until it forms soft peaks.

Use to put together gingerbread house recipe and for decorating.

Keep covered when not using to prevent it from hardening.

